

EDITORIAL

Editorial

Welcome to Issue 51 of Professional and Academic English.

It is my pleasure to introduce you to Issue 51 of the journal. After Issue 50, which celebrated 25 years of the ESP SIG, we continue to provide a forum for discussion of ESP around the world.

In Issue 51, we have four articles set in various EAP contexts from four different countries.

Diana Burinskaya investigates the use of CLIL in ESP in higher education in Russia.

Ruben Bieker and David Zook describe their experience and justify the teaching of ESAP in Germany.

Gamze Öncül shows how she integrated information literacy into a freshman EAP course in northern Cyprus.

Osei Yaw Akoto examines the use of metadiscourse devices in the introduction chapters of English Language and Sociology master's thesis in Ghana.

We also have a range of book reviews and conference reports.

I hope you find these articles interesting and useful and we hope that reading them will encourage all our readers to submit articles to the journal. Please visit <http://espsig.iatefl.org> for further information.

Happy reading!

Andy Gillett

Photographs: Front and page 28 - Adrian Hyde (<https://www.adrianhydephotography.com>)

Back cover - Photos of Dalian, China courtesy of Mark Krzanowski; Collage produced by Richard Boateng Osei, KNUST, Kumasi, Ghana

Copyright Notice: Copyright for whole issue IATEFL 2018. IATEFL retains the right to reproduce part or all of this publication in other publications, including retail editions. Contributions to this publication remain the intellectual property of the authors. Any requests to reproduce a particular article should be sent to the relevant contributor and not IATEFL. Articles which have first appeared in IATEFL publications must acknowledge the IATEFL publication as the original source of the article if reprinted elsewhere.

Disclaimer: Views expressed in Professional and Academic English: The Journal of the IATEFL English for Specific Purposes Special Interest Group are not necessarily those of the editor(s) of the English for Specific Purposes Special Interest Group of IATEFL or its staff or trustees.

Publisher: IATEFL

Publisher Address: 2-3 The Foundry, Seager Road, Faversham, Kent, ME13 7FD, UK

Contents

- 1 Editorial – Andy Gillett
- 2 Message from the ESP SIG
Coordinator – Ay en Güven
- 2 ESP SIG Committee
- 3 New approach to teach ESP -
Diana Burinskaya
- 8 Assessing content and language in ESAP: Why it is reasonable and how it can be done - Ruben Bieker and David Zook
- 12 Information literacy in practice
- Gamze Öncül
- 17 Same chapter, different disciplines: Metadiscourse use in introductions of English Language and Sociology master's theses - Osei Yaw
Akoto
- 28 Reports - Switzerland, Italy,
Senegal, Bangladesh
- 33 Book Reviews - Matt
Salisbury, Lee Nuttall, Harry
Zhu Wenqi, Mariam Settas,
Christopher Doxtator,
Christopher Kelly, Clayton
Anderson, Gilberto Diaz-
Santos, Serena Zhou, Ian
James, Shuo Zhao, Susan W.
Eshleman, Laura McNabb,
Thais Caroline Ferreira, Yoann
Colange